FAQs

Can I get the licence fast?

Yes, this is possible, but it is highly dependent on you and third parties providing us with all the relevant information as soon as possible. With this being the case, it is possible to get your licence in 4 weeks from lodgement, depending on how busy the government is at that time.

What types of issues may I encounter?

There are a number of issues that could arise in applying for a licence which we will guide you through

1. Objections from Neighbours or surrounding businesses
2. Objections from SAPOL
3. Incorrect landuse
4. Hours of Operation
5. Capacity
6. Criminal History and associations

Depending on the complexity of the issues, we will do our best to resolve this for you however we may require reports from third parties to assist with the approval of the licence, for which we will guide you through.

What is a Personal Information Declaration (PID) and who needs to apply for one?

All licensees, partners, directors, shareholders and specifically named beneficiaries will need to fill in a PID form as part of the licensing process. They will send a link to fill out their personal details and provide required to provide 100 points of ID. This will be sent to SAPOL for a criminal history check. This is not the same as a National Police Clearance.

I have previously been approved do I need to pay for another PID?

Yes, every time you apply for a licence, you will need to get approval again and pay the government fee.

I have a criminal history will this be an issue?

Depending on the nature of the offence history and frequency, this may preclude you from obtaining a licence, but we will discuss this with you before we start the process.

Who needs an International Criminal History Check (IHC)?

If you have lived overseas for more than one year, you will need to complete an IHC. A link will be sent to you to complete this. You will be charged directly by IHC for the international check. The price will depend on the country ($30-$189)

What documents do I need for the application?

This will depend on the application for which we will provide you with a list. It will typically include a floor plan, letters of consent and details of third parties involved in the process, such as landlords and property managers.

Are there any other fees after my licence is granted?

Yes, there will be an annual fee that will be sent to you directly from the government via email at the beginning of every financial year. This fee will be determined by your licence and the conditions you have.

What does the total application cost?

Once you complete the questionnaire below, we will give you an obligation free exact cost for the whole licensing process.

If my application is unsuccessful or if I change my mind during the process, can I get a refund?

Unfortunately, the application fees are for lodgement and not based on success so there is no refund of fees. If however, no assessment has been done, we can try and recover as many fees as possible.
